Mead, A WINE MADE FROM HONEY, has been used for millennia to celebrate the union of two people in marriage. The term “honeymoon” refers to the month’s supply of mead that was given to the bride and groom, reminding the couple to enjoy the sweetness of life and each other.

Symbolism of the Honeymoon

At the heart of the honeymoon is mead, humankind’s oldest fermented beverage. Newly married couples would drink a cup of mead daily for the first moon of their married life to help ensure longevity of their marriage, promote the well being of the newlyweds and fuel the flame of desire between lovers.

Today, a toast of mead among family and friends can set the tone for a sweet beginning and a passionate future.
